Property: This backcountry property consists of 80 acres located at the end of the trail. It's on the western side of the Bear Lodge Mountains. The north and east boundaries are adjacent to a vast amount Black Hills National Forest lands.

Terrain: The property is situated in a secluded spot high on a mountaintop with incredible views of the Bear Lodge Mountains. The notable landmarks of Devils Tower and the Missouri Buttes are visible on the western horizon. A steep hill transcends into a deep gorge on the north face of the property. The middle portion of the land consists of tablelands that are covered with ponderosa pine timber, bur oak trees and quaking aspen. Other areas are characterized by pretty mountain meadows, and rugged hillsides. The elevation is in the range of 5,100 to 5,350 feet above sea level.

Utilities: No utilities are currently installed for service to the property. Electricity is about $\frac{1}{2}$ to $\frac{3}{4}$ of a mile away.

Buildings: There is a newer 16' x 16' one sided, open front pole building on the property which would make great storage for ATVs and recreational equipment.

Recreation & Wildlife: The elusive Rocky Mountain elk and the Whitetail deer love the seclusion of this setting and are frequently seen in the area. A thick underbrush of oak and other native bushes offer ample protection and browse for wildlife. With direct access to thousands and thousands of acres of Black Hills National Forest lands, the outdoor adventures are never ending. Hiking, hunting, camping, snowmobiling, mountain biking are available right from the property or venture onto the adjoining public lands.

Access and Location: This is a very isolated location in the Bear Lodge Mountains of northeastern Wyoming. It is in the high country, at the end of the trail on a locked gate access road that is shared with several neighboring properties. The property is about 11.5 miles from Highway 24 via Lylte Creek County Road for just over 7 miles then about 4 miles on a private access road. The last one & one-half miles of the private access road is an unimproved trail. No maintenance agreement exists on this road.

Remarks: Remote mountain property with amazing views, which is located in the heart of big game country with direct access to Black Hills National Forest.
