Property:

This western Black Hills location includes 160 acres in the high country between Buckhorn and Four Corners. The property is at the end of the road with privacy and a pristine mountain environment.

Terrain:

This scenic venue is complete with ponderosa pine, quaking aspen, and juniper. When entering the south side of the property, the trail winds through the trees ascending up the hillside and leading into a forested plateau. Several open meadows are scattered throughout the property. From the southern ridge there are vistas overlooking the nearby Soldier Creek valley and the surrounding Black Hills. The land is set at an elevation in the range of 6,000 feet. A good trail system runs through the property making it easily accessible by ATV.

Utilities:

Electric and telephone lines run close to the south boundary on a neighboring property. No utilities are currently installed on the property.

Wildlife & Recreation:

This location is ideal for outdoor recreation in all seasons. The Black Hills is a year round adventure destination with over one million acres of National Forest. Trail #3 on Black Hills Snowmobile Trail System is just 2.8 miles from the property at Buckhorn. The seclusion of the property provides good wildlife habitat. Area wildlife includes Whitetail deer, turkey and elk.

Access & Location:

The property is just 1/2 mile west of Highway 85. The first portion of the road is Old Highway 85, which is pavement. Then the road becomes a private gravel road that is shared with neighboring properties. The last portion is a two track trail that enters the south side of the property. This unmatched location is within a 30 to 45 minute drive of several Black Hills area towns including Newcastle, WY, Sundance, WY and Deadwood, SD.

Nearby is a 2.43 acre property with buildings. View the High Country Property.
